best tv shows 2025 uk: A Future for Public Service Television Des Freedman, Vana Goblot, 2018-05-04 A guide to the nature, purpose, and place of public service television within a multi-platform, multichannel ecology. Television is on the verge of both decline and rebirth. Vast technological change has brought about financial uncertainty as well as new creative possibilities for producers, distributors, and viewers. This volume from Goldsmiths Press examines not only the unexpected resilience of TV as cultural pastime and aesthetic practice but also the prospects for public service television in a digital, multichannel ecology. The proliferation of platforms from Amazon and Netflix to YouTube and the vlogosphere means intense competition for audiences traditionally dominated by legacy broadcasters. Public service broadcasters—whether the BBC, the German ARD, or the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation—are particularly vulnerable to this volatility. Born in the more stable political and cultural conditions of the twentieth century, they face a range of pressures on their revenue, their remits, and indeed their very futures. This book reflects on the issues raised in Lord Puttnam's 2016 Public Service TV Inquiry Report, with contributions from leading broadcasters, academics, and regulators. With resonance for students, professionals, and consumers with a stake in British media, it serves both as historical record and as a look at the future of television in an on-demand age. Contributors include Tess Alps, Patrick Barwise, James Bennett, Georgie Born, Natasha Cox, Gunn Enli, Des Freedman, Vana Goblot, David Hendy, Jennifer Holt, Amanda D. Lotz, Sarita Malik, Matthew Powers, Lord Puttnam, Trine Syvertsen, Jon Thoday, Mark Thompson best tv shows 2025 uk: Transnational Streaming Television Joseph Straubhaar, Swapnil Rai, Melissa Santillana, Silvia Dalben, 2025-09-29 Examining the impact of streaming on the global production and flow of television and film, this book provides an innovative theoretical framework to conceptualize how asymmetric dynamics of power play out in the era of global streaming. This book analyses Netflix and Amazon Prime Video, two tech-based digital native streamers, and compares them to Disney+ and HBO Max (Warner Bros. Discovery), two legacy Hollywood studios with cable TV, and broadcasting operations, now pursuing global streaming. The book compares their different models of operation and specifically explores how these four streamers, particularly Netflix, are co-producing and commissioning television programs and films in an increasing number of countries. It also examines how this trend is creating new opportunities for independent producers and soft power for the producing nations. This book further considers the direct algorithmic targeting of individuals by their genre preferences across boundaries of culture, language, and nation, boundaries that previously protected national and regional television markets, creating a new flow of data colonialism. At a more local level, the book also examines some of the national and regional streaming platforms emerging in some of the key players in the Global South: Brazil, India, and Mexico. This is essential reading for students, researchers and academics interested in media studies, global media, and global television studies.

Growth marketers at some of the fastest growing SaaS in the world seem to agree. For example, Head of Growth at Deel, shares how they used Reddit as part of their strategy - scaling from 0 to $300M in ARR in 3 years. If you're a SaaS founder, growth marketer, or someone looking to drive leads and revenue, Reddit is a goldmine waiting to be tapped into. Three reasons why Reddit: 1. Google loves Reddit: Search engines have undergone massive changes in the last years - making the old SEO marketing playbooks obsolete. Google now promotes Reddit posts and comments on the top of the Search Engine Page (SERP). 2. AI loves Reddit: Generative search and Large Language Models (LLMs) like ChatGPT, Gemini and Claude need quality content to train on - favouring human generated content coming from communities like Reddit. 3. Buyers trust Reddit: People go to Reddit to get honest and transparent advice on software to buy. Buyers are tired of sponsored blog post, pay-to-play sites, affiliates earning commission from articles like “top 10 best HR software”. And tired of AI generated content. What if, instead of interrupting people with ads or filling their inbox with unwanted emails, you could join conversations they’re already having? And do it for free. Too good to be true? And it can very much move the needle for your startup. But you need to put in the work, and follow along the steps for the formula.

best tv shows 2025 uk: Anonymous Sounds Nessa Johnston, Jamie Sexton, Elodie A. Roy, 2025-01-09 This cross-disciplinary collection provides the first comprehensive study of library music practices in the 1960s and 1970s. Library music was inexpensive, off-the-shelf music available to license for a small fee. It was widely used in television and film as a cheaper alternative to commissioned soundtracks. The book pays attention to the different individuals, groups, organisations and institutions involved in making library music, as well as to its transnational sites of production (from continental recording studios to regional cutting rooms). It addresses questions of distributed creativity, collective authorship, and agency. Combining empirical and theoretical research, the book unveils the modus operandi of a highly secretive yet enduringly significant cultural industry. By drawing attention to the cultural ubiquity and intersectionality of library music, the collection also shifts emphasis from individual film and TV composers to the invisible community of music publishers, writers, and session musicians. It argues that the latter were collectively responsible for fashioning much of the sonic identity of 1960s and 1970s film and television. As well as providing a nuanced understanding of historical library music cultures, the collection shows how they continue to inform contemporary audiovisual cultures.
